American Fast Freight Appoints Craig Forbes Vice President, Sales

Forbes's leadership will nurture sales performance and service, as well as foster company growth.

American Fast Freight (AFF) announces the promotion of Craig Forbes to Vice President, Sales. In his new position, Mr. Forbes will oversee the company's sales staff. He will also take the lead on several new company-wide initiatives to employ enhanced performance measurement.

Mr. Forbes joined American Fast Freight in 2008 and most recently was the director of transportation. Over the previous 20 years, he moved through overlapping sales, operations and quality control positions with some major LTL (less-than-truckload) carriers. Just before coming to AFF, Mr. Forbes managed a large operation for FedEx Freight in Kent, Wash.

"As AFF's director of transportation, Craig has successfully developed a number of strategic relationships with regional and national LTL carriers," said AFF President Steve Day. "We're certain Craig's leadership skills will guide our sales team in growing our business."

A California native, Mr. Forbes earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration and management from Arizona State University.
